ATTENDANCE YESTERDAY SHOWS SLIGHT DECREASE

Figures of Railway Indicate That Trolley Cars Hauled Away 21,488 Persons From Grounds.

BIG CROWD OUT LAST NIGHT

Grand Stand Overflows, While Midway Is Thronged With Good-Natured Merry-Makers-Little Evidence of Disorder Reported.

While there was a huge crowd at the State Fair yesterday, there was little through the turnstiles, the only lable figures are those of the Vira Railway and Power Company, the has a complete record of those f last year, when 21,751 were taken tome on the trolleys, and nearly 4,000 ess than the same day in 1912, when 5,139 were taken away from the excess of vari-colored paper. The clear night added much to the enjoyment efore and after the fireworks. From en did a thriving trade with their n spite of the large crowds of yes-day and the day before, there was disorder in the grounds, and less as guides, and their hardest work was to keep the fun-seekers on the move. It is expected that to-day will be the busiest, next to Richmond Day, of the present fair. Local showers are forecasted, but these are not expected to hold down the attendance, as the majority of the fair patrons will be from out of town. Manager Warwick has made arrangements to drain that has a supply of dry sand to rain, and has a supply of dry sand to cover up the pools of water and mud.

Entr Heretofore Held. Prize winners were announced by the Virginia State Fair Association yester-day for the entire section devoted to poultry, in which there has been this year a larger number of entries than ever before at a fair held on Virginia soil. Prize winners were also announcsoil. Prize winners were also amounted for various grades of farm products, including alfalfa, in which much interest is being taken because of the adaptability shown by Virginia soil for this wonderful feed crop.

Prize awards were announced as folless than the same day in 1912, when 25,139 were taken away from the grounds.

These figures, of course, do not represent the number of persons who entered the grounds, but they are the ones upon which the estimates of each year are based. Hundreds of persons walked home from the fair, while hundreds of more used automobiles and other conveyances. On Thursday of last year it was raining, and the roads and walk-ways were in a terrible condition. It is a certainty that the cars were used in preference to motors or horse-drawn vehicles during the rain, while it is positive that the number of pedestrians this year was far in excess of last, so it is safe to believe that the attendance yesterday was slightly larger.

FUN RUNS RIOT AMONG

The crowd last night was a big one. the grand stand could not begin to accommodate those who wished to see the wonderful line of free attractions and the fireworks, while the Midway was thronged by a good-natured crowd until late in the night. There was a noticeable difference over the night before, but as there were fewer people, those on hand had great opportunity to spread out, and fun ran riot.

Confetti made its appearance before dark, and "ticklers" were much in evidence. Girls rivaled boys in their excess of vari-colored paper. The clear night added much to the enjoyment Disorder, there was none during the cay. Four arrests for petty offenses comprised the work of the county constabulary, while the ambulance sur-geons were given little practice at their profession. There was the usual numprofession. There was the usual num-ber of small cases to attend to at the hospital, but not nearly as many as the preceding day. CAR COMPANY MAKES NEW

The Virginia Railway and Power Company continued to handle the big crowd with ease and skill. Car after car arrived at the grounds, loaded and pulled away. As it moved, another took its place, and at no time was the crowd larger than could be handled.

Even the most belated fair visitor was on his way home before mid-night.

Given two more days like Wednes-

Given two more days like Wednesday and yesterday, and the Virginia State Fair Association will have its greatest season. Manager Warwick said last night, that he and his associates were more than pleased with the outlook. Tuesday exceeded the corresponding day of the preceding year, while Richmond Day and yesterday were record-breakers. The crisis has been passed and even rains cannot put the association into a functed hele been passed and even rains cannot put the association into a financial hole

The Midway people were better patronized yesterday than on any day this year. Thousands of persons packed the two main roads filled with novelty shows of all varieties, and money was spent with each. The crowded condition on Wednesday prevented them rom reaping the harvest naturally expected, but many of the people who were cheated out of their minutes of pleasure, will return to-day and to-morrow to take in the sights they
